

PUBLICATIONS

On this page you will find an overview of the various publications of the International Society for Human Rights (ISHR). In the opinion of the ISHR, civil rights such as freedom of expression, assembly, religion and the press are among the most important human rights, in addition to the right to life and security of the person. The IGFM therefore informs about human rights violations, because public attention is an important prerequisite to be able to solve individual fates and structural problems.

More than half of the world's population lives under regimes that disregard the right to free exercise of religion. Since our founding in 1972, we have reported on the fates of people persecuted for religious reasons and of people who defend this important right. Learn more about this work in our newsletter.
